

July 21 2011

The Last Little Blue Envelope

Author:

Maureen Johnson

Reading Level: Grades 8+

When 17-year-old Ginny's eccentric aunt died she sent her niece $1,000 and some numbered envelopes with the instruction that Ginny fly to Europe by herself and follow the directions in the envelopes, never opening the next envelope until the tasks in the previous envelope were completed.

WARNING: If you have not read 13 Little Blue Envelopes read no more!

It was a summer Ginny would never forget. She worked her way through twelve of the envelopes before her backpack (which held the thirteenth envelope) was stolen in Greece. Resigning herself to never finishing the adventure, Ginny returns home to New York.

Months later she receives an e-mail from someone she doesn't know. The e-mail contains the first page of the thirteenth letter. When she answers the e-mail, the sender tells her the rest of the e-mail contains clues to another of her aunt's paintings. Clues that only Ginny can solve. The sender will not share the instructions in the letter unless Ginny agrees to accompany him on the hunt for the pieces of the work, sell the painting and split the proceeds with him 50/50.

Check availability of this book

More books by Maureen Johnson

Other foreign adventures include:

The Sisterhood of the Traveling Pants by Ann Brashares

How to Ruin a Summer Vacation by Simone Elkeles and

Getting the Boot by Peggy Guthart Strauss

YS Book Level:

8th Grade

High Schoolers

YS Locations:

JY Fiction

YS Reviewers:

SJS

YS Genres:

Books for Girls

Chick Lit

In Other Lands

Rebus

Source URL: <http://hplibrary.org/kids/reviews/lastlittleblueenvelope?page=16>