Something with feathers

Something that gives light, but can be covered

Something that makes music

Something red

Something that makes noise

Something with a stamp

Something that can be erased

A picture of someone in your family at age 5

Something with a lock

Something that is fluffy

Something you put on your feet

Something that can take pictures, make videos, and send emails

Something that needs to be watered

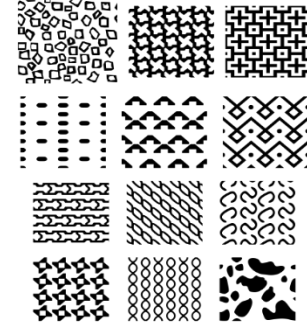

Something you put on your teeth

Something in a frame

Something you use in the rain

Something with a pattern

Something that starts with the first letter of your name

A book that has a number in the title

Something that bounces
